Gospel Reflection –

3rd Sunday of Ordinary Time Yr. A – Repent and Follow the Light

In the Gospel of this Sunday Jesus goes to “the region of Zebulun and Naphtali,” the land of the Gentiles and therefore considered a land of darkness to the Jewish people of that time. It is as though Jesus goes to the place of darkness so that the light of the Good News won’t be missed but shine, in contrast, even more brightly. God, indeed, desires all of us to “see a great light.”

As Jesus begins his public ministry, he issues two commands: “Repent” and “Come after me.” The Gospel suggests that both repentance and following Jesus are ways to walk in the light that reveal the kingdom of heaven close at hand. The kingdom of heaven is neither earthly realm nor a distant place.

How does “repent” open one to heed God’s call to follow him and become the light? We must be able to see the light who is Christ before we can be light for others. So one way to think about repentance is that it is turning from darkness so we can see the light.

This Australia day weekend we welcome our five new East Timorese seminarians- Flavio, Francisco, Cipriano, Cassandro and Leopoldino. For the past twelve months they have been patiently waiting for an entry visa and suspending their theological studies to learn English (which is their 4th language!). So, now we will engage them in their ongoing theological studies (in English). Please welcome them. Like our other seminarians they are a long way from their families, so let us embrace them and encourage them along their life’s journey.

This Australia Day is highlighted by new legislation about hate language and behaviour and new gun laws after the 14th December massacre at Bondi. The stereotype of the calm and cool Australian has taken a bit of a shake-up this year and even the icon of swimming at our beautiful NSW beaches has taken a hit with 4 shark attacks in 3 days, and the closing of beaches. Let’s also pay tribute to the graziers on the land who have suffered immense losses of livestock and property due to floods and bushfires. We are a land of drought and flooding rains.

Having said that, we need to be proud that as a nation we have been prepared to take on the difficult issues and not drift into lawlessness. Hay has been provided from around the nation for struggling farmers. As Christians, let us be mindful of the suffering of our Jewish brothers and sisters on this Australia Day: we are One but we are Many and from all the lands on earth we come.

From St Clair to the Holy Doors: Walking with Mary in the Year of Hope

Pilgrims at the Basilica of Our Lady of Fatima. Image: supplied. (Extracts from an article from Catholic Outlook written By Fr Percival Severe OSA, 21 January 2026)

Reflections from the Holy Spirit Parish, St Clair-Erskine Park Marian Jubilee Pilgrimage 2025

On 21 October 2025, 44 pilgrims from Holy Spirit Parish, St Clair-Erskine Park, and friends stepped onto a plane and into a story of grace.

Over many days, we journeyed through Fatima and Lourdes, Paris, Zaragoza and Montserrat, Lisieux and Nevers, Avila and Segovia, Cascia and San Giovanni Rotondo, Milan and finally Rome, where we passed through the four Holy Doors of the Papal Basilicas in this Jubilee Year of Hope. In Rome, the pilgrimage reached its climax with Mass at the Chapel of St Monica, where Pope Leo XIV was ordained a priest. Earlier that day, we had also attended the papal audience, a moment of great joy for the pilgrims, especially seeing Pope Leo in person – someone whom many participants had met years ago when he was still “Fr Bob” during his visits to Australia, and particularly to St Clair. In these holy places, our Augustinian charism came alive: restless hearts searching for God, journeying together “with one mind and one heart on the way to God.”

Pilgrims reflect on experience

For many, the pilgrimage began with a quiet but insistent call. Majella, one of the pilgrims, recalls having “that immediate desire to join” right in the middle of deep family challenges. Valerie speaks of “a deep longing for spiritual renewal and a desire to reconnect with my faith in a meaningful way,” especially through a call to peace “not only felt in prayer and sacred places, but one I long to cultivate in every aspect of life.” For Marthense, “it was always a dream to be a pilgrim,” a dream that finally came to life when the parish organised this journey. She and her husband Paul came home feeling “spiritual blessings and more focused at time of praying.”... Gene and Nida, now in their 70s, weren’t sure at first if they could still manage such an intense journey, but slowly, through prayer, their hesitation turned into a clear “yes.” Gene speaks of “unexpected graces, answered prayers, serendipitous moments, and a happy camaraderie” among pilgrims of different ages and backgrounds. To anyone considering a similar journey, he simply says: “If you come with a humble and sincere heart, it is life-changing.”

Mass Readings

First Reading

Isaiah 8:23 - 9:3

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

In days past the Lord humbled the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in days to come he will confer glory on the Way of the Sea on the far side of Jordan, province of the nations.

The people that walked in darkness has seen a great light; on those who live in a land of deep shadow a light has shone.

You have made their gladness greater, you have made their joy increase, they rejoice in your presence as men rejoice at harvest time, as men are happy when they are dividing the spoils.

For the yoke that was weighing on him, the bar across his shoulders, the rod of his oppressor, these you break as on the day of Midian.

The Word of the Lord

Responsorial Psalm

Psalm 26:1, 4, 13-14

R. The Lord is my light and my salvation.

The Lord is my light and my help; whom shall I fear?

The Lord is the stronghold of my life; Before whom shall I shrink? R.

There is one thing I ask of the Lord, for this I long, to live in the house of the Lord, all the days of my life, to savour the sweetness of the Lord, to behold his temple. R.

I am sure I shall see the Lord's goodness in the land of the living.

Hope in him, hold firm and take heart. Hope in the Lord! R.

Second Reading

1 Corinthians 1:10-13, 17

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

I appeal to you, brothers, for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ, to make up the differences between you, and instead of disagreeing among yourselves, to be united again in your belief and practice. From what Chloe's people have been telling me, my dear brothers, it is clear that there are serious differences among you. What I mean are all these slogans that you have, like: 'I am for Paul', 'I am for Apollos', 'I am for Cephas', 'I am for Christ'. Has Christ been parcelled out?

Was it Paul that was crucified for you? Were you baptised in the name of Paul?

For Christ did not send me to baptise, but to preach the Good News, and not to preach that in the terms of philosophy in which the crucifixion of Christ cannot be expressed.

The Word of the Lord

Gospel Acclamation

Matthew 4:23

Alleluia, alleluia! Jesus preached the Good News of the kingdom and healed all who were sick. Alleluia!

Gospel

Matthew 4:12-23

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Hearing that John had been arrested Jesus went back to Galilee, and leaving Nazareth he went and settled in Capernaum, a lakeside town on the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali. In this way the prophecy of Isaiah was to be fulfilled:

Land of Zebulun! Land of Naphtali! Way of the sea on the far side of Jordan, Galilee of the nations!

The people that lived in darkness has seen a great light; on those who dwell in the land and shadow of death a light has dawned.

From that moment Jesus began his preaching with the message, 'Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is close at hand.' As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee he saw two brothers, Simon, who was called Peter, and his brother Andrew; they were making a cast in the lake with their net, for they were fishermen. And he said to them, 'Follow me and I will make you fishers of men.' And they left their nets at once and followed him.

Going on from there he saw another pair of brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John; they were in their boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and he called them. At once, leaving the boat and their father, they followed him.

He went round the whole of Galilee teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the Good News of the kingdom and curing all kinds of diseases and sickness among the people.

The Gospel of the Lord.
